1. Introduction to BPI

The Building Performance Institute, Inc. (BPI) is North America's premier developer of technical standards and professional credentials for residential energy efficiency upgrade work. BPI develops standards using an open, transparent, consensus-based process built on sound building science. From these standards, we develop professional credentials for individuals, accreditation for contracting companies and a rigorous quality assurance program that raise the bar in home performance contracting. BPI is approved by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) as an accredited developer of American National Standards and as a certifying body for personnel credentials under ANSI/ISO/IEC: 17024.

BPI is headquartered in the Saratoga Technology + Energy Park (STEP) in Malta, New York, and is supported by organizations around the globe. BPI was founded in 1993 by a group of building tradesman, product manufacturers, and public program professionals. Their vision was to create a resource for independent, third-party verification of worker skills in the weatherization industry and building trades. In 1996, the first certifications were issued for weatherization auditors and installation personnel. Since that time, BPI has expanded its capabilities to serve not only the weatherization industry, but also the growing building performance contracting industry from both a residential and multifamily buildings perspective.

As an independent, not-for-profit organization, we help create sustainable, green-collar jobs in local communities – jobs that cannot be exported – while helping to improve the comfort, health, safety, durability and energy efficiency of America's existing houses.

BPI develops, maintains and provides oversight of building performance certification schemes for individuals, and administers certification scheme committees to develop the schemes. This work includes conducting quality assurance surveillance of the testing process through the BPI Test Center network. BPI, through certification scheme committees, makes determinations regarding the withdrawal of certifications and requirements for certification renewal.

BPI is a 501(c)3 corporation registered in the state of New York. The corporation was incorporated on January 18, 1996 and the corporation number is 14-1789014. The objective of the corporation is to provide credentialing for individuals and corporations involved in the residential retrofit industry.

BPI's certification programs are operated in accordance with Title VI, of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, that states no person shall, on the grounds of race, color or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. BPI accepts and awards individual and organizational credentials regardless of membership status in any organization, association, program or group. BPI has no members and is not a membership organization.

2. BPI Certification Schemes

BPI offers individual certification in a number of areas in the residential retrofit industry.

The certification schemes are developed and then reviewed on an on-going basis by scheme committees made up of subject matter experts – individuals with the credentials and experience within the industry. The scheme committee review statistics, industry changes and current certification scheme requirements on a regular basis.

Industry input on each certification scheme is encouraged. The scheme committee members will seek input from external sources including, but not limited to:

- industry associations
- professional groups
- government agencies
- consumer/owner advocacy groups

The certification outlined in this handbook is for candidates who are involved in the diagnostics of existing residential buildings. For a full listing of certifications, see the www.bpi.org website.

For individuals to become BPI certified, successful completion of a field exam to confirm the candidate's knowledge and skills is required to confirm the candidate's abilities.

To be certified by BPI, the candidate is not required by BPI to undergo any specific training, whether that would be on-site job training or classroom training, however, training is recommended. BPI does not approve any training programs. It is up to the individual to decide what training they want to take and where to take it, as it is solely their decision.

Modifications to the certification scheme will be made by BPI on the basis of the non-compliance cases, feedback from industry and technical changes to materials, components, systems, building codes or other relevant items.

3. Outline of the Infiltration & Duct Leakage Certification

This certification scheme handbook outlines the knowledge, skills and abilities requirements for the Infiltration & Duct Leakage certification.

This scheme defines the scope of the Infiltration & Duct Leakage certification to include specific diagnostic testing and applied data from whole house infiltration and duct leakage testing. This certification is not intended to be a whole house diagnostic, audit or assessment and consists of three main components: whole house infiltration testing, total distribution system leakage, and distribution leakage to the outside.

This document is intended to include all of the tasks an Infiltration & Duct Leakage Professional may perform, as well as the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to do these tasks.

Please note that certification is not a license to practice. All certified persons must comply with applicable federal, state and local laws and regulations governing the profession.

4. Practicum (Field) Evaluation (Abilities)

A practical evaluation to determine the candidates' abilities has been developed by BPI in order to ensure competency in the critical tasks defined by BPI. This will provide documented evidence that the candidates have the appropriate abilities.

The practicum evaluation exam is constructed where candidates are requested to perform a task. The candidates are provided direction and given the proper tools and equipment to undertake completing the task. Their abilities are then evaluated based on a predetermined set of criteria.

The candidates will follow the instructions outlined in the abilities section of the functions and tasks outlined in this document.

The time limit for the practicum evaluation is 1 hour and 30 minutes (1 1/2) hours. This exam is an open-book exam (the only reference not permitted is assistance). Any papers used to take notes, create diagrams, or record diagnostic results (scrap paper) may not leave the testing environment. All papers must be handed to the proctor to be destroyed.

The field exam consists of the set up and preparation of the whole house depressurization device (e.g. blower door) as well as a duct pressurization test, performing total system leakage, leakage to outside and general analysis.

The passing mark on the remaining tasks is 85%.

You may take the field exam up to three times in one year. There is a cost for each test.

The practicum evaluation will be administered at various locations across the United States as determined by the locations of the various BPI Test Centers.

5. Examination Security

Examinations are highly confidential materials. Any attempts to willfully compromise the integrity of the examination, the examination process or the certification process shall be taken seriously; offenders may be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. In addition, any certification credential may be revoked immediately if a breach is proven to have been made by a certified individual.

7. Standards of Reference

All BPI exams are based on a mixture of industry practices, axiomatic¹ concepts, and major standards of references. No singular source exists that could touch upon every aspect for what is considered testable. Conversely, there is no limit to the potential useful material found in print and online.

- ASTM E 1554-07 (leakage to outdoors test method C)

8. Preparing for Certification

There are no prerequisites to take this exam or become certified. Before you schedule your examination:

- Download the latest version of this handbook from www.bpi.org.
- Read all information contained in this handbook in its entirety.
- Refer to the Functions and Tasks contained in this handbook to be sure that you understand and are capable of performing the tasks required of this certification.
- Obtain any reference materials required for the field test and study these references well in advance of taking the examination

Candidates in need of special testing accommodations, such as a language barrier, or arrangements for persons with disabilities, will submit the appropriate forms as noted in Appendix (D and E)

It is highly recommend that you submit your request for accommodation at least 30 days prior to your preferred exam date.

8.2 Proof of Identity

Candidates must show photo identification prior to taking the exam. Please note that photo ID cannot be expired. Be sure to register with the exact same name that will be presented as identification at the exam location or you will not be allowed to take the exam.

8.3 Certification Fees and Scheduling

Candidates take this examination through BPI Test Centers. Test Center fees and dates the exams are available vary from Test Center to Test Center. BPI does not set these prices or times nor does BPI collect the examination fees. When attempting certification through a Test Center contact the Test Center for Test Center fees and scheduling details of examinations. To locate a Test Center please go to our website (www.bpi.org) and select BPI Test Centers under the 'Locator' tab at the top of the page.

8.4 Field Testing Environment

Field examinations conducted at a site that does not have duct work will be void. While it is the proctor's responsibility to find a suitable site the candidate should also be aware to avoid potential testing issues.

¹ An axiomatic concept is something implicit that requires no proof or explanation (e.g. – the sum of 2 and 2 is 4, or gravity states that if you drop something, it will fall to a lower level).

Please be aware that during the performance exam the proctor may ask questions in relation to the line item on the field examination form for clarification purposes only. Proctors should not be asking any other type of question and are NOT permitted to ask questions unrelated to or above and beyond the line items on the field examination form. If you feel that you have been asked questions which are inappropriate please complete the "Complaint Form" located at www.bpi.org.

9. Granting

Appendix C – Candidates with Special Testing Accommodations

Candidates with Special Testing Accommodations

The Americans with Disabilities (ADA) Act provides comprehensive civil rights protection for qualified individuals with disabilities. An individual with a disability is a person who: (1) has a physical impairment or a mental impairment that substantially limits a major life activity, (2) has a record of such impairment, or (3) is regarded as having such an impairment.

The ADA does not specifically name all of the impairments that are covered. If you have a disability, you have the right to inquire and receive information about testing accommodations. “Testing Accommodation” means an adjustment to or modification of the standard testing conditions that eases the impact of the applicant’s disability on the examination process without altering the nature of the exam.

As an applicant claiming a disability that requires testing accommodations, the applicant must properly complete the Special Testing Accommodation form. The burden of proof is on the applicant to establish the existence of a disability protected the Americans with Disabilities Act, as well as to establish the need for testing accommodations. Each application is evaluated on a case by case basis.

Qualified individuals with disabilities are required to request accommodations every time they plan to take the examination. It is in the candidate’s best interests to provide recent and appropriate documentation, which clearly defines the extent and impact of the impairment(s) upon current levels of academic and physical functioning.

- Request for accommodations and appropriate supporting documentation, which when completed, should provide evidence of a substantial limitation to physical or academic functioning.
- Clinical evaluations and examinations of the candidate that have resulted in a diagnosis of a physical or mental impairment must have been performed by a licensed/certified or otherwise qualified professional with credentials appropriate to diagnose a candidate’s disability consistent with the provisions of the ADA. Details about the professional’s area of specialization and professional credentials must be provided.
- Documentation must be submitted on official letterhead from a licensed or qualified professional who examined the candidate and diagnosed a physical or mental impairment. Depending on the disability and written evaluation, documentation may include a letter from a physician or a detailed report.
- Document must be no more than 3 years old.
- Documentation for all disabilities should describe the extent of the disability and recommended accommodations.

A diagnosis of Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD) or Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) must be supported by a current (administered within the past three years) comprehensive evaluation and relevant neuropsychological or psychoeducational assessment batteries. The report must include documented information that the patient meets criteria for long standing history, impairment, and pervasiveness. The report must include specific diagnosis of ADHD based on the DSM-IV diagnostic criteria.

Appendix D – Language Barrier Testing Accommodations

Language Barrier Testing Accommodations

If you have difficulty in comprehending the language of the test, you have the right to inquire in advance of testing whether any accommodations may be available to you. BPI shall allow the candidate, at his or her expense, to have an interpreter present at either a written or practical exam, provided that the interpreter is a bona fide interpreter that is engaged in that profession and that is pre-approved by BPI.
